The prophets are rooted within the context of the national history, geo-political climate, and religious environment of the time because the prophets are God's response to that environment.

We cannot understand the prophets without understanding this context.

“Surely the Lord Jehovah will do nothing, except he reveal His secret unto His servants the prophets.”

Give your servant therefore an understanding mind to govern your people, that I may discern between good and evil, for who is able to govern this your great people? —1 Kings 3:9

The background of the image is a dark, atmospheric landscape. In the foreground on the right, there is a large, classical stone column with a fluted shaft and a capital. The background shows rolling hills and mountains under a cloudy, dimly lit sky. The overall color palette is dark, with shades of green, brown, and grey, accented by the white text.
